Central Library Hosts Young, Fantasy Fiction Writer Blake Eaton
Local Author Discusses His Debut Novel and Forthcoming Sequels

SAN DIEGO – The San Diego Public Library will host an author talk featuring 16-year-old local writer Blake Eaton, who will discuss his debut novel, The Elite Chronicles: The Great Hunt, at 6:30pm on Wednesday, July 13, in the Wangenheim Room on the third floor of the Central Library, located at 820 E Street in downtown San Diego. This event is free and open to the public.

The first book of a planned trilogy, The Great Hunt is described as an enchanting tale of magic, war, triumph and redemption. The saga begins with all eyes on the prosperous and thriving Alliance after the last remaining heir to its throne is kidnapped. The king calls upon the greatest heroes in all of the empire – the Elite – to hunt down the perpetrators of the heinous crime. Unfortunately, this may only be the beginning of an even greater turmoil, as far more sinister evils await the chance to overthrow the hated Alliance. Copies of the book will be available for purchase at the event and online at <http://theelitechronicles.com/index.htm>.

Blake Eaton is a high-school student who runs for the cross-country and track-and-field teams. He spends most of his time writing and with friends. He is an avid reader and loves fantasy books. He is currently working on his second book, the sequel to The Great Hunt, titled The Devil's Gambit.
